PERTH CONCERT HALL WINS BEST VENUE CATERER AWARD

The 2009 Restaurant and Catering Association of Western Australia Awards for Excellence were held on Monday 25 May, 2009. Perth Concert Hall, managed by AEG Ogden (Perth), won the much coveted award for best 'Venue Caterer'.

As well as awarding catering excellence, individuals were also recognised for their achievements.

In the category of 'Function Chef of the Year', Neil Mansfield was a finalist, and for 'Catering Consultant of the Year', Anneliese Hvalgaard, Event Sales Manager, Creating Events with Style was also a finalist.

In the 'Hospitality Awards' category Fiona Smith, Duty Manager at His Majesty's Theatre won the Employee Merit Certificate, awarded to an employee who has made an outstanding contribution to his or her profession.

Kyllie Graham, General Manager of the Food & Beverage Division – known as Creating Events with Style said, "We are honored to be the recipient of this highly sought after 'Venue Caterer' award. The individual achievement in the 'Employee Merit Certificate' and finalists categories provides a true indication of the quality excellence of Perth Concert Hall and our staff."

AEG Ogden has consistently won state and national awards every year since beginning their food and beverage operation in Perth.

This award, along with their many others, is evidence of AEG Ogden's commitment to providing outstanding quality products and services.

To the pleasant surprise of many, Perth Concert Hall is one of the few venues in the city that offers stunning, uninterrupted views of the Swan River from light-filled galleries, sweeping verandahs and private meeting spaces.
